Topic: Personal Blog

A Personal Blog can do the same. Though a blog can be created from basic to advanced level, initially you're recommended to opt for creating a basic blogging site using HTML, CSS, and jQuery. And, if you're having sound knowledge of CSS Grid, Flexbox, Responsive Design, and other related concepts, it would be more beneficial for you to create an enriching Personal Blog page. Optional: Meanwhile, Bootstrap also allows you to create a responsive blog that can run on different screen sizes conveniently and efficiently.
